I want to welcome you to our first Digital Newsletter! The Benefits Spotlight has been redesigned to improve how we keep you up to date on current and engaging information. Additionally, this is the first version of the Benefits Spotlight to provide coverage of the National IAM Benefit Trust Fund in addition to the IAM National Pension Fund and IAM National 401(k) Plan. By going digital, not only are we being more environmentally conscious, but we can now make important information available to plan participants in a more efficient and interactive way.

Last year was a challenging year for everyone, including the Benefit Funds Office. In March 2020, we completely shut down our physical office space as a result of the ongoing COVID-19 pandemic and restructured our teams to transition to the new “remote work” environment. We also encountered challenges such as delays in United States Postal Service mail delivery, a huge spike in pension applications from buyouts and layoffs due to the challenges COVID-19 presented to the economy, and managing staff availability due to the impact of COVID-19 on our employees and their families. Our focus continues to center around accomplishing all business functions on behalf of our participants, while doing our best to protect our employees.

The COVID-19 pandemic has undoubtedly impacted workplaces across the country. Last year, the Benefit Funds Office saw historic increases in pension applications. Data shows that in some months, applications more than doubled from the previous year. Our teams are working diligently to process all pension applications and all benefits, in a timely manner during these unprecedented times. We have truly appreciated your understanding and patience.

As we enter 2021, we know the Benefit Funds Office will continue to face challenges of the pandemic, but we also inch closer towards the elimination of subsidized early retirement benefits for groups that have adopted the IAM National Pension Fund’s Rehabilitation Plan and Schedule; how to submit your pension application, what to do if you plan to retire in 2021 but want to work into December, and if you are not sure if your group adopted the IAM National Pension Fund’s Rehabilitation Plan and Schedule; how to obtain that information.

Throughout the year, we will be rolling out more educational resources on your retirement benefits, including printed material, updates to the website, videos, and webinars. As always, if you have questions, please contact our IAM National Pension Fund’s Customer Service Team at 1-800-424-9608.

For the National IAM Benefit Trust Fund, there is a very important article regarding your Special Enrollment rights. If you are getting married, preparing for the birth of a new child, or adopting, please pay special attention to this information. Failure to enroll timely can result in the inability of the Fund to grant coverage.

And finally, for the IAM National 401(k) Plan, there is information regarding improvements to the John Hancock website, information on naming your beneficiary, and the 2021 IRS contribution limits.

One additional major project that we touch on in the newsletter is the upcoming roll-out of new benefit administration systems for all three Funds. The Benefit Funds Office has been working on the transition to this new system for over three years and it is set to “go-live” this summer for the IAM National Pension Fund and IAM National 401(k) Plan, and in the fall for the National IAM Benefit Trust Fund. These new systems will allow us to better serve you and increase productivity and efficiency in benefit processing. We are very excited about the change and more information will follow in subsequent newsletters.

As always, you, the plan participants, are our top priority and we hope that the new and improved digital Benefits Spotlight is helpful to you. The Benefit Funds Office is committed to our participants and we are looking forward to serving you in 2021 and beyond!

Ryk Tierney, CEBS
Executive Director
IAM National Benefit Funds

There are helpful articles in this newsletter with tips on how to submit your pension application, what to do if you plan to retire in 2021 but want to work into December, and if you are not sure if your group adopted the IAM National Pension Fund’s Rehabilitation Plan and Schedule; how to obtain that information.
The Benefit Funds Office is anticipating a large increase in participants applying for their pension benefit in 2021 due primarily to the adoption of the IAM National Pension Fund's Rehabilitation Plan and election of the Preferred Schedule by over 80 percent of bargaining groups in the National Pension Fund. The subsidized benefit elimination for those groups covered under the Preferred Schedule is effective January 1, 2022.

If you are covered under the Preferred Schedule of the Rehabilitation Plan and desire to work into December 2021, please note the following:

- You must send your completed pension application to the Benefit Funds Office so that it is received no later than December 30, 2021
- Your Pension Application should include all required forms and supporting documents
- To be considered as “received by the Benefit Funds Office”, the Pension Application will need to be stamped as received by our mail room no later than December 30, 2021
- Note: The postmark date does not qualify, it must be received by the Fund no later than December 30, 2021
- To comply with federal regulations, you cannot apply for your pension earlier than 180 days before your intended pension effective date

If this criteria is met, you can have a last day worked up through and including December 31, 2021, without losing the subsidized benefit, if otherwise eligible.

We highly recommend that if you want to work through and including December 2021 that you pay particular attention to the rules stated in this article and submit your Pension Application in a timely manner. If you have any questions, please contact the Benefit Funds Office Customer Service Department at 1-800-424-9608.

If you are planning to retire anytime in 2021 and apply for your pension benefits, please note the tips on the next page regarding the application process.

SPECIAL ENROLLMENT

Participant Obligations

Please be keenly aware of the National IAM Benefit Trust Fund rules regarding the special enrollment of qualified dependents. Not only are these Plan rules, but also requirements under the IRS codes, also requirements under the law. They are not subject to change by the Board of Trustees.

What type of events fall under “special enrollment”?• Birth of a Child• Marriage• Adoption

In these cases, you must submit completed enrollment forms and provide required supporting documentation (Birth Certificate; Marriage Certificate; and/or Adoption Papers) to the Benefit Trust Fund Customer Service after the event. Failure to do so will result in a denial of coverage until the next enrollment period.

Example A: If you are going to get married and plan on adding your spouse to your healthcare and prescription coverage, you must enroll your spouse and provide the marriage certificate after the marriage takes place. Failure to do so will result in your spouse not being eligible for coverage to be added until the next enrollment period.

DO NOT wait for the child’s birth certificate. This is not an exception to the special enrollment rule. If you do not have the birth certificate available initially, contact the National IAM Benefit Trust Fund Customer Service, enroll the child, and provide any paperwork regarding the birth within 30 days of the birth. This will ensure the enrollment is timely and you can send in the birth certificate when you receive it.

PLEASE pay strict attention to the Special Enrollment requirements. No one wants to tell a new family member that they do not have healthcare coverage because you missed the 30-day enrollment requirement. Unfortunately, we have seen this happen too many times in the past.

Do not let it be you.

If you have questions, call the National IAM Benefit Trust Fund Customer Service at 1-800-457-3481.

PLEASE NOTE:

Due to the global pandemic, the Department of Labor’s Employee Benefits Security Administration has provided temporary relief from this 30-day deadline allowing additional time to submit special enrollment documents. This relief will last until 60 days after the announced end of the National Emergency. If you have questions about the time extension under these guidelines, please contact the National IAM Benefit Trust Fund Customer Service at 1-800-457-3481.

Example B: If you are welcoming a new baby to your family, you must enroll and provide the supporting documentation within 30 days of the birth or the baby will not be eligible for coverage until the next enrollment period.
